Prof. Dr. Eirini Ntoutsì was nominated to join AcademiaNet-Expert Database

Prof. Dr. Eirini Ntoutsì was nominated by the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation to join AcademiaNet-Expert Database for Outstanding Female Academics. AcademiaNet is a European web site database of highly qualified female scientists of all disciplines setup by the Robert Bosch Foundation in cooperation with Spektrum der Wissenschaft (Nature Publishing Group) in 2010. It is the only web site of its kind that shows profiles only of outstandingly qualified women who are best in their field. They all have been nominated by highly recognized science and research institutions. To date, more than 2,000 profiles of female top-class researchers of all disciplines are in the database.