In April 2012, L3S started to collaborate with the University of Salento (http://www.unisalento.it/) Lecce, Italy, in the context of the course of Technical Translation and Interpreting (Traduzione tecnico-scientifica e interpretariato), and in particular with a module on audiovisual translation using the LearnWeb 2.0 platform (http://learnweb.l3s.uni-hannover.de/new/lw/).

An official agreement has now been signed between the two parties for joint scientific research on cross-cultural communication, translation, linguistics, language teaching, and CLIL teaching through Internet technologies.
